

Visiting the Hermitage Library

When I visit the Hermitage Branch Library, I can talk quietly using my inside voice. Sometimes, there are a lot of people at the library. When there are, it can get very loud. Sometimes, a baby might cry.

I will try to walk when I am in the library. If the library is busy, sometimes there are a lot of children and grown-ups looking for books or playing in different areas. There is a table for doing puzzles, a table for coloring and a table for playing with LEGO bricks. I will try to share the LEGO bricks with the other children who want to play with them. I will try and wait my turn if someone is using something I want to play with. There is a story room with a puppet theater and puppets that I can play with if I want to.

There are computers in the children's area that I can play on. The librarian can make me a reservation for a computer, but I may have to wait for one to be available. I will try to be patient if I have to wait for a computer.

If I need help finding something, I can ask the librarian at the desk. The librarian can help me find books, DVDs and audiobooks. The librarian can also help me check out books and put books on hold if they are not available when I am there.
