

Attending Story Time at Southeast Library

Many people like going to Story Time at the library. Story Time is where I can hear a librarian read books and sing songs. During Story Time, the librarian will play music and dance. I can dance during the songs if I want. Sometimes, I might get to use an instrument or scarf when I dance to the music. When the music is not on, I will try to remember to sit on my bottom and listen.

The librarian might use a puppet during Story Time. I can pretend to feed the puppet. I will try to sit on my bottom and wait patiently for my turn to feed the puppet if that is what I want to do.

The librarian will stand at the front of the room to read the books. Sometimes the librarian wants help reading a book. The librarian might ask the children to repeat a phrase or make a sound. The librarian will tell me when to participate if I would like to. I will try to sit on my bottom with my grown-up. I will try to keep my eyes forward to see the pictures. I will try to listen to the story. The librarian will be happy when I sit with my parent and enjoy the books she will read. I will leave Story Time with my grown-up.
